

On approval of types and capacity of medical care

Unofficial translation

Decree of the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan No. 1481 dated December 7, 2011

Unofficial translation

In accordance with Articles 40, 42, 45 of the Code of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated September 18, 2009 "On health of people and healthcare system", the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan hereby DECREES AS FOLLOWS:

1. Approve the attached types and capacity:

- 1) qualified medical care;
- 2) primary health care;
- 3) highly specialized medical care.

2. This Decree shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the first official publication.

The Prime Minister of the Republic of Kazakhstan

K. Massimov

Approved
by the Decree of the Government
of the Republic of Kazakhstan
No. 1481 dated December 7, 2011

Types and capacity of qualified medical care

1. Qualified medical care - medical care provided by medical personnel with higher medical education, for diseases that not requiring specialized methods of diagnosis, treatment and medical rehabilitation.

2. Types of qualified medical care:

- 1) general medical practice;
- 2) therapy;
- 3) pediatrics;
- 4) surgery;
- 5) obstetrics and gynecology.

3. General medical practice/family medicine - medical care provided by general practitioners, focused on the provision of primary medical care.

4. The capacity of qualified medical care for patients shall be determined by medical indications on the basis of preventive, diagnostic and therapeutic measures that have the highest proven effectiveness.

Approved
by the Decree of the Government

Types and capacity of primary health care

1. Primary health care - pre-medical or qualified medical care provided by district physicians, pediatricians, general practitioners, feldshers, obstetricians and nurses, without round-the-clock medical supervision, including a range of affordable medical services provided at the person, family and society level.

2. Types of primary health care:

- 1) diagnostics for early detection of diseases;
- 2) outpatient treatment;
- 3) inpatient care (day care, home care);
- 4) temporary disability examination (issuance of a sheet, certificate of temporary disability);
- 5) preventive examinations;
- 6) immunization;
- 7) advice on formation and promotion of a healthy lifestyle;
- 8) recommendations for a rational and healthy diet;
- 9) advice and recommendations on family planning;
- 10) patronage of pregnant women, children, including newborns;
- 11) clinical examination and dynamic observation.

3. The capacity of primary health care for patients shall be determined by medical indications on the basis of preventive, diagnostic and therapeutic measures that have the highest proven effectiveness.

Approved
by the Decree of the Government
of the Republic of Kazakhstan
No. 1481 dated December 7, 2011

Types and capacity of highly specialized medical care

1. Highly specialized medical care - medical care provided by specialized specialists in diseases requiring the use of the latest diagnostic, treatment and medical rehabilitation technologies in medical organizations determined by the authorized authority.

2. The types of highly specialized medical care shall be divided into therapeutic, surgical, pediatric and obstetric-gynecological profiles and approved by the authorized authority in the field of healthcare.

3. The capacity of highly specialized medical care for patients shall be determined by medical indications on the basis of preventive, diagnostic and therapeutic measures that have the highest proven effectiveness.

© 2012. «Institute of legislation and legal information of the Republic of Kazakhstan» of the Ministry of Justice of the Republic of Kazakhstan