This methodology for calculating the amount of pension payments (hereinafter referred to as the methodology) has been developed in accordance with Subparagraph 5) of Article 6 of the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated June 21, 2013 "On Retirement Insurance in the Republic of Kazakhstan" (hereinafter referred to as the Law) and establishes the procedure for calculation of the amount of pension payments.

2. To calculate the amount of pension payments, the following parameters shall be used:

- 1) rate of payment of pension savings (in %);
- 2) indexation rate of pension payments (in %);
- 3) adjustment factors to the rate of payments of pension savings.

3. Parameters, specified in Paragraph 2 of this methodology, shall be taken in sizes according to the appendix to this methodology.

4. The annual amount of pension payments in the first year of making pension payments shall be calculated as the product of the amount of pension savings by the rate of payments of pension savings.

5. The annual amount of pension payments in the first year of pension payments shall be multiplied by the adjustment factor specified in the appendix to this methodology, if an individual meets one of the following conditions:

- 1) there is the first-group disability, established indefinitely;
- 2) there is the second-group disability, established indefinitely;
- 3) reaching the age of retirement in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 11 of the Law and the presence of pension savings formed from compulsory professional pension contributions in the aggregate for at least sixty months.

For persons who satisfy more than one condition provided for in part one of this paragraph, the adjustment factor with the largest value is applied.

6. The amount of monthly pension payments in the first year of pension payments is determined as one twelfth of the annual amount of pension payments in the first year of pension payments, calculated in accordance with Paragraphs 4 and 5 of this methodology.

In this case, the payment of the calculated amount of the monthly pension payment in the first year of the implementation of pension payments is carried out in the amount of at least 70 percent of the subsistence minimum established as of January 1 of the corresponding financial year by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan "On Republican Budget".

In subsequent years of the implementation of pension payments, the size of the monthly pension payment shall be determined by increasing the size of the monthly pension payment for the previous year by the rate of indexation of pension payments.

Methodology for determining the replacement ratio of the recipient's average monthly income with pension payments

Footnote. The methodology is in the wording of the Decree of the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 06.01.2021 No. 1 (shall come into force from 01.04.2021); as amended by the Decree of the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 26.10.2022 No. 850 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

1. This Methodology for determining the replacement ratio of the recipient's average monthly income with pension payments (hereinafter referred to as the methodology) has been developed in accordance with Subparagraph 5) of Article 6 of the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated June 21, 2013 "On Pension Insurance in the Republic of Kazakhstan" (hereinafter referred to as the Law) and establishes the requirements to the calculation of the replacement ratio of the recipient's average monthly income with pension payments.

The calculation of the replacement ratio of the contributor's average monthly income is carried out by the joint-stock company "Unified Accumulative Pension Fund" (hereinafter referred to as JSC "UAPF") on the basis of information obtained from the information systems of the state body in charge of management, as well as within the limits provided for by the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan, intersectoral coordination in the field of social protection of the population.

2. For the purposes of this methodology, the following basic concepts are used:

1) pension payments (hereinafter referred to as the monthly pension) - the aggregate of the recipient's monthly pension payments, including the state basic pension payment, pension payments by age, determined at the date of their assignment;

2) the recipient of pension payments (hereinafter referred to as the recipient) – an individual, who is assigned state basic pension payment and (or) pension payments by age, and (or) pension payments from JSC "UAPF";

3) replacement rate of the average monthly income - the coefficient, which is defined as the ratio of the size of the monthly pension to the average monthly income of the recipient.

3. To calculate the average monthly income of the recipient at the time of granting the pension, the amount of actually paid compulsory pension contributions of the recipient is used, taking into account the inflation rate for the corresponding period, which is calculated using the following formula:

$$S_n = \left(\sum_{i=1}^{n-1} (P_i \times \prod_{j=i}^{n-1} I_{j+1}) + P_n \right) \times k$$

where:

S_n – the amount of actually paid compulsory pension contributions of the recipient, taking into account the inflation rate for consecutive calendar months preceding the date of the retirement age in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 11 of the Law;

P_i – receipt of compulsory pension contributions per month i ;

P_n – receipt of compulsory pension contributions per month n ;

I_{j+1} – ratio of the consumer price index per month $j + 1$ in relation to the previous month j , in percent;

n – the number of calendar months, which is assumed to be 60;

i – a monthly variable taking a value from 1 to $n-1$;

j – a monthly variable taking a value from i to $n-1$;

$$k = \begin{cases} 1, & \text{если } m = 0 \\ \prod_{l=1}^m I_{l+n}, & \text{если } m > 0 \end{cases}$$

m – the number of consecutive calendar months between the date of the grant of the pension and the date of the onset of the retirement age in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 11 of the Law;

I_{l+n} – the ratio of the consumer price index per month in relation to the previous month, in percent;

l – a monthly variable taking a value from to .

At the same time, the indicators of the consumer price index for the corresponding period are taken in accordance with the data of the Bureau of National Statistics of the Agency for Strategic Planning and Reforms of the Republic of Kazakhstan, posted on its official Internet resource.

4. The recipient's average monthly income is calculated using the following formula:

where:

РАМИ – the recipient's average monthly income as at the date of assignment of pension, but not less than the amount of minimum salary, established on January 1, of the relevant financial year by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan "On Republican Budget", and not more than the average monthly income in the republic;

АМІР – an average monthly income for the republic, taken as the average salary for the calendar year preceding the appeal date, posted on the official Internet resource of the Bureau of National Statistics of the Agency for Strategic Planning and Reforms of the Republic of Kazakhstan. In the absence of posted data on the average salary for the full calendar year, the latest actual data of the year preceding the date of appeal are accepted for calculation;

S_n – the amount of actually paid compulsory pension contributions of the recipient, taking into account the inflation rate for consecutive calendar months preceding the date of the retirement age in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 11 of the Law;

N – the number of months with non-zero mandatory pension contributions of the recipient from consecutive calendar months preceding the date of the onset of retirement age in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 11 of the Law;

РСРС – rate of compulsory pension contributions in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 25 of the Law; n – the number of calendar months, which is assumed to be 60.

If the value of N is equal to zero, then the amount of РАМИ is taken equal to the minimum salary in the amount established on January 1 of the corresponding financial year by the law on the republican budget.

5. The replacement rate of the recipient's average monthly income with a monthly pension is calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{КЗД} = \left(\frac{\text{ежемесячная пенсия}}{\text{СДП}} \right) * 100$$

where:

RRРАМИ – the replacement ratio of the recipient's average monthly income with pension payments, in %;

RAMI– the recipient's average monthly income as at the date of assignment of pension.

6. The calculation of the replacement ratio of the recipient's average monthly income with a monthly pension shall be made by the authorized body for the calculation of the replacement ratio of the recipient's average monthly income with pension payments in accordance with this methodology.

7. For persons with disabilities of the first and second groups, if the disability is established indefinitely, when calculating the amounts of actually made mandatory pension contributions and the average monthly income of the recipient, the last listed mandatory pension contributions shall be taken, but not more than 60 months.

For recipients of pension payments for long service, who have been assigned pension payments in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 1 of Article 65 of the Law, and retired judges, who are paid monthly life annuity according to the provisions of Paragraph 2-1 of Article 35 of the Constitutional Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated December 25, 2000 "On Judicial System and the Status of Judges of the Republic of Kazakhstan", the replacement ratio of the recipient's average monthly income with a monthly pension is taken equal to 40 percent.

Methodology for determining the threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings

Footnote. The methodology is in the wording of the Decree of the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 06.01.2021 No. 1 (shall come into force from 01.04.2021).

1. This methodology for determining the threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings (hereinafter referred to as the methodology) has been developed in accordance with Subparagraph 5) of Article 6 of the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated June 21, 2013 "On Pension Insurance in the Republic of Kazakhstan" (hereinafter referred to as the Law) and establishes the requirements to the calculation of the threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings.

2. The following basic concepts are used for the purposes of this methodology:

1) Unified Accumulative Pension Fund (hereinafter referred to as the the UAPF) – a legal entity, carrying out an activity on attraction of pension contributions and pension payments;

2) the threshold of the minimum sufficiency of pension savings is the minimum amount of pension savings formed from compulsory pension contributions and (or) compulsory professional pension contributions, required to ensure a monthly pension not lower than the minimum pension established for the corresponding financial year by the law on the republican budget, determined in accordance with a methodology approved by the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan

3. To determine the threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings, the following parameters are used:

1) the annual percentage rate of return (in%), established in accordance with the Appendix to this methodology, but not more than 9%;

2) annual indexation rate of pension payments from the UAPF (in%), established in accordance with Appendix to this methodology, but not less than 5%;

3) indexation rate of the minimum pension, but not less than 5%;

4) the annual rate of indexation of the minimum salary (in%), established in accordance with Appendix to this methodology, but not less than 5%;

5) the expected frequency of compulsory pension contributions, established in accordance with Paragraph 5 of this methodology;

6) initial and limiting age of making pension payments. At the same time, the initial age for making pension payments is set at the level of the full retirement age of women in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 11 of the Law; the maximum age for making pension payments is established in accordance with the Appendix to this methodology, but cannot be less than 82 (eighty two) years;

7) the amount of the monthly pension is determined not less than the amount of the minimum pension, which includes two components:

the minimum size of the state basic pension payment (hereinafter referred to as the basic pension in the minimum amount), established on January 1 of the corresponding financial year by the law on the republican budget, guaranteed to be paid to all persons who have reached the retirement age established by Paragraph 1 of Article 11 of the Law (except for the recipients of pension payment for long service, and retired judges who are paid lifetime annuities);

payment from pension savings (based on the present value of future pension contributions from mandatory pension contributions), defined as the difference between the minimum salary and the basic pension in the minimum amount.

4. When calculating the threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings, the parameters specified in Subparagraphs 1), 2), 3), 4), 5) and 6) Paragraph 3 of this methodology, are adopted in accordance with the Appendix to this methodology on an annual basis upon the submission of the Ministry of Labor and Social protection of the population of the Republic of Kazakhstan and in agreement with the Ministry of National Economy of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

5. The expected frequency of compulsory pension contributions is determined annually on a rolling basis as the arithmetic mean of the annual indicators of the frequency of compulsory pension contributions by contributors for the last 5 (five) full calendar years preceding the calendar year in which the threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings for the coming calendar year is calculated. At the same time, the annual indicators of the frequency of compulsory pension contributions until 2020 (inclusive) are taken equal to 12 (twelve).

6. The present value of pension payments from the UAPF and the present value of mandatory pension contributions are used to calculate the threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings.

7. The present value of pension benefits from the UAPF is calculated using the following formula

$$TC\Pi B_{x_1} = \sum_{t=0}^{x_2-x_1} 12 \times \Pi B \times \frac{(1+j)^t}{(1+i)^{t+0.5}}$$

where:

PVPPx1– the present value of pension payments from the UAPF for an aged recipient;

IP – an estimate of the amount of the initial pension payment from the UAPF, defined as the difference between the maximum {MS; MP} and MBP;

MS – minimum amount of salary established as of January 1 of the relevant financial year by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan "On the Republican Budget";

MP – minimum amount of pension, established as of January 1 of the relevant financial year by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan "On the Republican Budget";

MBP – basic pension in the minimum amount;

i– annual interest rate;

j– annual indexation rate of pension payments from the UAPF;

t– a variable that takes values from 0 to x2-x1;

x1– initial age of making pension payments;

x2– age limit for making pension payments.

8. The present value of compulsory pension contributions is calculated using the following formula:

$$TCO\Pi B_{x_0} = \sum_{t=0}^{x_1-x_0-1} \frac{(1+k)^t}{(1+i)^{t+0.5}} \times \text{ЧОПВ} \times \text{МЗП} \times \text{СОПВ}$$

where:

PVPCx₀–the present value of compulsory pension contributions for an aged contributor;

FCPC– expected frequency of compulsory pension contributions;

MS– minimum amount of salary, established as of January 1 of the relevant financial year by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan "On the Republican Budget";

RCPC– rate of compulsory pension contributions in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 25 of the Law;

i– annual interest rate of return (in %);

k– annual indexation rate of the minimum salary;

t– variable that takes values from 0 to x₁-x₀-1;

x₀– age of the contributor, where x₀<x₁ ;

x₁– age at which payments are made from pension savings.

9. The threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings is calculated using the following formula:

$$\text{ПМД}_{x_0} = \text{ТСПВ}_{x_1} \times \frac{(1 + l)^{x_1 - x_0}}{(1 + i)^{x_1 - x_0}} - \text{ТСОПВ}_{x_0}$$

where:

TMSPSx₀– the threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings at the age of X₀;

PVPPx₁– the present value of the pension payments from the UAPF for the recipient aged X₁;

PVPCx₀– the present value of compulsory pension contributions for the contributor at the age of X₀;

i- annual interest rate of return;

l– annual indexation rate of the minimum pension;

X₀– age of the contributor, where X₀<X₁ ;

X₁– age at which payments are made from pension savings.

At the same time, for contributors aged X₁ and older, but who have not reached the retirement age in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 11 of the Law, the threshold for the minimum sufficiency of pension savings is equal to the TMSPSx₁-1, that is, to the threshold one year less age than starting age for making pension payments.

The threshold of the minimum sufficiency of pension savings, calculated in accordance with this paragraph, is rounded to the nearest ten thousand tenge.

10. The threshold of the minimum sufficiency cannot be lower than the threshold of the minimum sufficiency for the previous year for the respective ages.
