- 4) sending a report to the client on the execution of his/her order to register a transaction with securities.

In the absence of grounds for refusal to execute an order to register a transaction with securities specified in paragraph 22 of the Rules, the execution of an order to register a transaction with securities shall be carried out by the central depository within a period of no more than two working days after the date of receipt of the counter order, if the Rules and (or) the set of rules of the central depository does not provide for a different deadline for the execution of the order.

Footnote. The rules have been supplemented by paragraph 21-1 in accordance with the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 24.02.2021 No. 37 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

22. The Central depository, within 3 (three) calendar days from the date of receipt of the order, shall issue a written refusal indicating the reasons for its non-execution in the following cases:

1) suspension or deprivation (revocation) of a license and (or) appendix to the license of a client of the central depository to carry out professional activities in the securities market (except for operations on transfer of financial instruments into nominal holding to other depositories or withdrawal of financial instruments from nominal holding of the central depository and information operations);

2) suspension or termination of the circulation of securities by the authorized body or government bodies authorized to suspend or terminate the circulation of securities (except for information operations);

3) suspension or termination of the circulation of securities in accordance with the terms of the issue of securities (except for information operations, operations necessary when changing the nominal holder, or conducted when redeeming such securities, as well as operations for writing off securities from sub-accounts opened to voluntary savings account pension funds, and transfer to a sub-account opened to a unified pension savings fund);

4) non-compliance of the order with the form established by the set of rules of the central depository;

5) absence of the order details that are required to be filled out, as well as the presence of corrections or erasures;

6) discrepancies between samples of signatures on orders and samples certified by a notary;

7) securities and (or) personal account (sub-account) specified in the order are blocked, except for the cases specified in Article 65 of the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan “On Enforcement Proceedings and the Status of Bailiffs”;

8) encumbrances of financial instruments specified in the order, with the exception of transactions for writing off (crediting) financial instruments from (to) personal accounts (account) (subaccounts (subaccount) of registered persons during the reorganization of banks in the form of merger, in relation to one of which restructuring was carried out in accordance with the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan “On Banks and Banking Activities in the Republic of Kazakhstan”;

9) lack of the required number of financial instruments and (or) money in the accounts (sub-accounts) of clients of the central depository;

10) absence of a counter order, if the need for its provision is established by the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan on the securities market;

11) receipt of notification of failure by the accounting organization to comply with the order of the central depository to enter (withdraw) financial instruments into (from) nominal holding;

12) non-compliance of the transaction with the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan on the securities market;

13) in cases established by the set of rules of the central depository.

The written refusal shall be sent by mail and (or) courier, and (or) e-mail, and (or) facsimile or by means of communication provided for by the set of rules of the central depository.

Footnote. Paragraph 22 is in the wording of the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 28.10. 2022 No. 84 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

23. The central securities depository shall provide the necessary conditions for the preservation of financial instruments issued in documentary form, and records of client rights on them, including the use of systems for duplicating such information and a secure system for keeping records.

24. The dematerialization of financial instruments issued in documentary form shall be carried out by the central securities depository by registering and certifying the rights for the specified financial instruments in its system of accounting for nominal holding on personal accounts (subaccounts) of clients of the central securities depository. Confirmation of clients' rights on financial instruments shall be carried out by the central securities depository by issuing an extract statement from the personal account (subaccount) in the accounting system of the central securities depository.

25. The central securities depository shall store dematerialized financial instruments in the manner established by the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan on the securities market.

26. In order to fulfill the functions of a paying agent in transactions with financial instruments held in nominal holding, as well as in the payment of income on securities and upon their redemption, the central securities depository shall simultaneously open personal accounts (sub-accounts) to customers in the accounting system of nominal holding and bank accounts.

27. Money from clients of the central depository, clients of depositors, as well as unclaimed money shall be accounted for in the central depository separately from its own funds.

The central depository keeps records of the depositor's money and its clients' money separately.

Footnote. Paragraph 27 is in the wording of the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 26.06.2023 No. 63 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

28. The central securities depository shall receive information on a daily basis from brokers and (or) dealers concerning the amount of each customer's money held in an account opened with the central securities depository and intended for transactions with equity securities and other financial instruments. Information submitted by brokers and (or) dealers on the amount of money of each client held in an account opened with the central securities depository and intended for making deals with equity securities and other financial instruments, should be stored by the central securities depository for 5 (five) years from the closing date of the client's subaccount in the central securities depository accounting system.

28-1. The Central depository, in accordance with the procedure established by the set of rules of the central depository, shall carry out daily receipt and storage of the following electronic data from the nominal holder accounting system for the depositor's subaccount intended for aggregated accounting of financial instruments owned by the depositor's clients, about:

balances of financial instruments listed on this sub-account at the beginning and end of the reporting day;

transactions with financial instruments registered on the personal accounts of clients of the nominal holder and conducted on this sub-account during the reporting day.

The Central depository notifies the authorized body on the facts of non-submission or violation of the submission deadlines established by paragraph 16 of Rules No. 210 by the nominal holder of the information specified in part one of this paragraph, no later than one working day following the day of the violation.

Footnote. The rules have been supplemented by paragraph 28-1 in accordance with the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 24.02.2021 No. 37 (shall be enforced from 01.07.2021); is in the wording of the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 24.09.2021 No. 95 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

29. Settlements for money in transactions with financial instruments shall be carried out by the central securities depository or the settlement organization on behalf of the central securities depository.

30. As part of performing the functions on nominal holding of securities, the central securities depository no later than the next business day after receiving from the depositor an application for the realization of the right of preferential purchase of its client, who is a foreign nominal holder, shall send this application to the issuer.

31. In order to provide services for nominal holding, the central securities depository shall open in its name:

1) personal accounts of nominal holding in custodian banks, international and foreign depositories for accounting of financial instruments, as well as an organization carrying out depository activities in accordance with the acts of the "Astana" International Financial Center;

2) bank accounts in custodian banks, international and foreign depositories to account for money received by the central securities depository when paying out income and (or) redeeming financial instruments held in nominal holding by the central securities depository, as well as for making transactions with financial instruments outside the Republic of Kazakhstan .

32. Government securities and rights shall be accounted for by the central securities depository. The conditions and procedure for the implementation by the central securities depository of depository servicing of government securities shall be determined by article 7 of the Law on the Securities Market and a set of rules of the central securities depository.

33. The central depository, in the manner established by the set of rules of the central depository, reports to clients and (or) holders of securities on the status of their personal accounts (sub-accounts), bank accounts and transactions carried out on these accounts, information about which is available in the central accounting system depository.

The deadlines for submitting statements from personal accounts (sub-accounts) and bank accounts of clients and (or) security holders shall be established by the set of rules of the central depository.

Footnote. Paragraph 33 is in the wording of the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 24.02.2021 No. 37 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

34. In accordance with the procedure established by the set of rules, the central securities depository shall assign identifiers to the rights of claim under the issuer's obligations for issue-grade securities, the circulation period of which has expired, for which these claims have arisen as a result of the issuer's default on repayment, and send information to the authorized body about the identifier assigned to the rights of claim under the issuer's obligations with regard to issued securities, indicating the identification number of such issue-grade securities.

35. After conducting transactions on the personal account opened in the register of holders of securities to write off issued securities, the circulation period of which has expired, and to credit the rights of claim on the issuer's obligations on issued securities, the central securities depository shall conduct operations to write off such issued securities (with the exception of issuing securities, for which a blocking operation was carried out on the basis of acts of state bodies and a list of organizations and associated with the financing of terrorism and extremism, under Article 12 of the Money Laundering Law) to the sub-accounts of depositors and clients and transfer of rights of claim for the issuer's obligations on such issue-grade securities while maintaining commitments incurred on these securities (encumbrance, trust management), and send a notice to depositors, which contains information about:

a default made by the issuer to the issue-grade securities, the circulation period of which has expired and the issuer has not fulfilled the obligations to repay them;

an identifier assigned to the rights of claim for the obligations of the issuer for such issue-grade securities;

operations carried out in the central securities depository accounting system for the writing off of issue-grade securities, the circulation period of which has expired, from subaccounts of depositors and their clients and crediting rights of claim for the issuer's obligations on such issue-grade securities.

The central securities depository shall maintain a register of identifiers for the rights of claims on the issuer's obligations with regard to issue-grade securities, the circulation period of which has expired, in the manner established by the set of rules of the central securities depository.

36. On the day of receiving a copy of the resolution of the general meeting of shareholders of reorganized financial organizations, the central securities depository shall reflect transactions on the relevant personal accounts (sub-accounts) inside of the nominal holding accounting system and send reports on transactions registered in the nominal holding accounting system to depositors.

37. In the event of reorganization of financial organizations possessing licenses of the authorized body for the same licensed type (subtype) of activities and specified in subparagraphs 1) and (or) 2) of paragraph 16 of the Rules based on the received order of the financial institution, re-established as a result of the reorganization and for which the license of reorganized financial organizations was renewed, the central securities depository shall provide the following on the same day:

1) when merging financial organizations:

opening sub-accounts for clients of the financial organizations, reorganized as a result of demerger within the personal account of a financial organization;

write-off of securities (rights of claims on the issuer's obligations on issuing securities) from the clients' subaccounts opened within personal accounts of financial organizations, reorganized as a result of demerger and their subsequent crediting to subaccounts of these clients opened within a personal account of a financial institution created as a result of demerger;

closing sub-accounts of clients opened within the personal accounts of reorganized financial organizations;

2) when one financial organization merges with another financial organization:

opening sub-accounts for clients of the consolidated financial organization within the personal account of the financial organization with which the another one was consolidated, with the exception of clients who have already opened sub-accounts within the personal account of the financial organization to which the consolidation is being carried out;

write-off of securities (rights of claims on the issuer's liabilities on issuing securities) from the clients' subaccounts opened within the personal account of the financial institution being merged, and their subsequent crediting to the subaccounts of these customers opened within the personal account of the financial institution to which the merger is being made;

closing sub-accounts of clients opened within the personal account of the consolidated financial institution.

When a financial organization, having a license of the authorized body specified in subparagraphs 1) and (or) 2) of paragraph 16 of the Rules, is reorganized through demerger, the central securities depository, on the basis of and on the day of receipt of the order of the financial organization newly formed as a result of demerger and for which the license of the reorganized financial organization was re –issued, shall provide:

opening of sub-accounts to clients of the financial organization reorganized as a result of demerger within the personal account of the financial organization, formed as a result of separation for which the license of the authorized body was renewed;

write-off of securities (rights of claims on the issuer's obligations on issuing securities) from subaccounts of customers, opened within the personal account of a financial institution reorganized as a result of demerger, and their subsequent transfer to the subaccounts of these customers, opened as part of the personal account of the financial organization, formed as a result of demerger for which the license of the authorized body was renewed;

closing sub-accounts of clients opened within the personal account of a financial institution reorganized in the form of a demerger.

When a financial organization is reorganized in the form of a split-off, the securities (rights of claim on the issuer's liabilities on issuing securities) continue to be recorded in the subaccounts of the clients of the financial institution from which the split-off was carried out.

When financial organizations are reorganized through merger and if the client has two or more sub-accounts of these financial organizations, the central securities depository shall open one sub-account to this client within the personal account of the newly emerged financial institution. The data of the subaccount, the changes on which were submitted to the central securities depository by the client of the reorganized financial organizations, shall be accepted as the details of the sub-account. When financial organizations are reorganized in the form of a merger, if the client of the merging organization has a subaccount with the financial organization to which the merger is taking place, the central securities depository shall credit the securities (rights of claim on the issuer's obligations on the issued securities) to the specified subaccount.

Operations on the write-off (crediting) of securities from (to) subaccounts of clients of the financial organizations under reorganization indicated in the first and second parts of this paragraph shall be carried out by the central securities depository only if the registration of these operations does not entail a change of owners of the securities.

If there are securities on the subaccounts of the financial institution being reorganized and / or its customers (rights of claim for the issuer's obligations on issuing securities) for which restrictions are placed on conducting transactions, the actions specified in this paragraph of the Rules, shall be carried out by the central securities depository with simultaneous reflection of such imposed restrictions in the subaccounts of the financial organization and (or) its clients, to which these securities (rights of claim on the issuer's obligations on issuing securities) are credited, notifying the person who imposed these restrictions about the operations performed, indicating the new details of the sub-account, on which further accounting of such securities will be carried out (rights of claim on the issuer's obligations on issuing securities) with restrictions imposed on them.

After the operations specified in the first and second parts of this paragraph, the central securities depository shall send to the reorganized financial organizations reports on transactions registered in the central securities depository accounting system no later than the next business day after the transaction date.

Chapter 2.1. Assigning unique codes to clients of the central depository and clients of depositors

39. The Central depository shall conclude depository service agreements and (or) bank account agreements with clients specified in paragraph 3 of Article 78 of the Law on Securities Market. The agreements shall be concluded in writing.

When the central depository provides services for nominal holding of securities, the depository service agreement contains the norms of the contract for nominal holding in accordance with Article 60 of the Law on the Securities Market.

The conditions and procedure for concluding a bank account agreement shall be established by the Rules for opening, maintaining and closing customer bank accounts, approved by the resolution of the Board of the National Bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated August 31, 2016 No. 207, registered in the Register of state registration of regulatory legal acts under No. 14422, and the set of rules of the central depository.

Footnote. Paragraph 39 is in the wording of the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 24.09.2021 No. 95 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

40. Opening and maintaining correspondent accounts of banks, branches of non-resident banks of the Republic of Kazakhstan and organizations carrying out certain types of banking operations, as well as transfer operations to fulfill orders of individuals and legal entities for payments and money transfers shall be carried out by the central depository in the manner prescribed by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan “On payments and payment systems”, Rules for establishing correspondent relations between banks, banks, branches of non-resident banks of the Republic of Kazakhstan and organizations carrying out certain types of banking operations, as well as establishing correspondent relations by banks with banks-participants of the International financial center “Astana”, approved by the resolution of the Board of the National Bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated August 31, 2016 No. 210, registered in the Register of State registration of regulatory legal acts under No. 14335, and the set of rules of the central depository.

Footnote. Paragraph 40 is in the wording of the Resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market No. 63 dated 26.06.2023 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

Chapter 3-1. The procedure for accounting for unclaimed money in the central depository accounting system Footnote. The rules have been supplemented by Chapter 3-1 in accordance with the resolution of the Board of the National Bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 26.07.2019 No. 125 (shall be enforced from July 1, 2019).

40-1. In the absence of information about the shareholder's bank account intended for crediting money from securities transactions at the company, and (or) in the system of registers of securities holders, and (or) the system of registration of nominal holdings, the money intended to pay for voting shares of the company, acquired by a major shareholder from other shareholders shall be transferred to an account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the central depository accounting system.

In the absence of information about the current details of the shareholder at the company, in the system of registers of securities holders and (or) the system of accounting for nominal holding, payment of dividends on the company's common shares shall be carried out within five working days after the expiration of ninety calendar days from the date following the date of acceptance by the general meeting of shareholders of the decision on the payment of dividends on common shares of the company to an account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the accounting system of the central depository.

In the absence of information about the current details of the shareholder at the company, in the system of registers of securities holders and (or) the system of accounting for nominal holding, payment of dividends on preferred shares of the company shall be carried out within five working days after the expiration of ninety calendar days after the date of compilation of the list of shareholders entitled receipt of dividends to an account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the central depository accounting system.

In the absence of information about the current details of the shareholder at the liquidated company, and (or) in the system of registers of securities holders, and (or) the system of registration of nominal holding, the money to be paid to this shareholder after satisfying the claims of creditors shall be transferred within five working days from the date, following the date the liquidation commission made a decision on the payment of such money, to an account opened in the central depository for accounting of unclaimed money.

If the issuer of bonds, which has a license to carry out bank transfer operations, and (or) the system of registers of securities holders, and (or) the system of registration of nominal holdings does not have information about the current details of the bond holder, payment of amounts due to these holders intended for the redemption of bonds, including the last coupon reward, shall be transferred to an account for accounting of unclaimed money, opened in the accounting system of the central depository in the manner and within the time limits established by the set of rules of the central depository.

Payment of unclaimed money belonging to the client of the nominal holder, information about which is not disclosed in the accounting system of the central depository, shall be carried out to the account of the nominal holder, who independently transfers money to his client.

Footnote. Paragraph 40-1 is in the wording of the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 28.10.2022 No. 84 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

40-2. Accounting of money intended to pay for voting shares of the company acquired by a major shareholder from other shareholders in accordance with Article 25-1 of the Law on Joint Stock Companies, and money intended for payment of dividends to shareholders, about which the company and (or) the register system of holders of securities, and (or) the nominal holding accounting system do not have up-to-date information, shall be carried out in the central depository accounting system separately for each person.

Footnote. Paragraph 40-2 is in the wording of the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 24. 02.2021 No. 37 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

40-3. To pay for the voting shares of the company acquired by a major shareholder from other shareholders who do not have up-to-date information about the shareholder's bank account intended for crediting money from transactions with securities, in accordance with Article 25-1 of the Law on Joint Stock Companies, this person simultaneously shall submit an order to the central depository to repurchase the company's shares and transfer the required amount of money to an account for accounting of unclaimed money, opened in the central depository accounting system.

The order specified in part one of this paragraph shall be accompanied by a document confirming the price for the sale by shareholders of their voting shares to a major shareholder, determined in accordance with paragraph 4 of Article 25-1 of the Law on Joint Stock Companies.

At the request of a person whose shares were sold to a major shareholder in accordance with Article 25-1 of the Law on Joint Stock Companies, the central depository, within three working days from the date of receipt of such a request, provides him/her with a copy of the document specified in part two of this paragraph. The Central depository, in cases established by its set of rules, shall charge a fee for providing a copy of the document, which should not exceed the cost of its production.

Footnote. Paragraph 40-3 is in the wording of the Resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 28.10. 2022 No. 84 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

40-4. Prior to the registration of a sale transaction by shareholders for which there is no up-to-date information about the shareholder's bank account intended for crediting money from securities transactions, voting shares of the company belonging to them at the request of a major shareholder in accordance with Article 25-1 of the Law on Joint Stock Companies, the central securities depository shall reconcile the amount of money credited to the account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the accounting system of the central securities depository, with the information contained in the relevant order of a major shareholder.

If a discrepancy is detected in the amounts specified in part one of this paragraph, the major shareholder, within 1 (one) working day from the date of receipt of notification from the central depository about this discrepancy, shall make the necessary adjustment to the order or transfer the missing amount of money to the account for accounting of unclaimed money, opened in the central depository accounting system.

If the amount of money intended to pay for the voting shares of the company acquired by a major shareholder from other shareholders in accordance with Article 25-1 of the Law on Joint Stock Companies is more than the required amount, then such a difference shall be returned to the major shareholder to his/her bank account.

Footnote. Paragraph 40-4 is in the wording of the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 28.10.2022 No. 84 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

40-5. If the central depository does not provide the issuer with the services of a paying agent, the issuer, within the period provided for in parts two and three of paragraph 40-1 of the Rules, shall send to the central depository in accordance with the form approved by the internal document of the central depository, information about shareholders to whom dividends have not been paid due to the lack of information about their current details in the company, and (or) the system of registers of securities holders, and (or) the system of accounting for nominal holding, and also transfer money intended for the payment of dividends to shareholders about whom the company and (or) the system of registers of securities holders, and (or) the system of accounting for nominal holdings do not have information about their current details to the account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the accounting system of the central depository.

After fulfilling the obligations to repay its bonds, the issuer holding a license to carry out bank transfer operations, in accordance with the procedure and terms established by the central securities depository's set of rules, shall send to the central securities depository, in accordance with the form approved by the internal document of the central securities depository, information about bondholders who have not been paid the amounts intended for repayment of bonds, including the last coupon remuneration, due to the lack of information about their current details in the company, and (or) the system of registers of securities holders, and (or) the nominal holding accounting system, and also transfer money intended for the payment of these amounts to an account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the accounting system of the central depository.

The Central depository shall reconcile information received from the issuer on holders of financial instruments that have not been paid dividends and (or) interest on bonds, and (or) amounts intended for bond repayment with information from the central securities depository accounting system, and also reconcile the amount of money received from the issuer to the account for unclaimed money, opened in the accounting system of the central depository, with the amount of money specified in the information provided by this issuer.

If there are no discrepancies based on the results of the reconciliation carried out by the central depository in accordance with part three of this paragraph, the central depository shall accept the issuer's payment order, enter the relevant information into the central depository's accounting system and at the same time send the issuer a report on the execution of these operations.

If a discrepancy is detected in the amounts specified in part three of this paragraph, this information shall be reported to the issuer for taking corrective measures.

Footnote. Paragraph 40-5 is in the wording of the Resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 28.10.2022 No. 84 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

40-6. If the central depository provides the issuer with the services of a paying agent, the transaction for the transfer of money intended for the payment of dividends and (or) interest on bonds, and (or) amounts intended for the redemption of bonds to holders of financial instruments for which there is no information about their current details at the company, and (or) in the system of registers of securities holders, and (or) in the system of accounting for nominal holding, to an account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the accounting system of the central depository, shall be carried out in accordance with the resolution of the Board of the National Bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated December 2, 2003 year No. 409 “On approval of the Rules for the activities of a paying agent” (registered in the Register of state registration of regulatory legal acts under No. 2632), and the set of rules of the central depository.

The Central depository shall transfer money intended for the payment of dividends and (or) interest on bonds, and (or) amounts intended for the redemption of bonds to holders of financial instruments for which there is no information about their current details at the company and (or) in the registry system of securities holders, and (or) in the nominal holding accounting system, to an account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the central depository accounting system, and also enter the relevant information into the central depository accounting system and at the same time send a report on the execution of these operations to the issuer.

Footnote. Paragraph 40-6 is in the wording of the Resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 28.10.2022 No. 84 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

40-7. The issuer, if there are unpaid dividends as of July 1, 2019, shall send to the central depository, in accordance with the form approved by the internal document of the central depository, information about shareholders who have not been paid dividends due to the lack of information about their current details at the company and (or) in the system registers of securities holders, and (or) in the system of registration of nominal holdings, and also transfer money intended for payment of dividends to shareholders, about which there is no information about their current details at the company, and (or) in the system of registers of securities holders, and (or) in the nominal holding accounting system, to an account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the central depository accounting system.

The Central depository shall carry out reconciliation of information received from the issuer about shareholders to whom dividends have not been paid with information (if any) from the central depository's accounting system, and also reconcile the amount of money received from the issuer to the account for accounting of unclaimed money opened in the central depository's accounting system, with the amount of money indicated in the information provided by this issuer.

If there are no discrepancies based on the results of the reconciliation carried out by the central depository in accordance with part two of this paragraph, the central depository shall accept the issuer's payment order, enter the relevant information into the central depository's accounting system and at the same time send the issuer a report on the execution of these operations.

If a discrepancy is detected in the amounts specified in part two of this paragraph, this information shall be reported to the issuer for taking corrective measures.

Footnote. Paragraph 40-7 is in the wording of the resolution of the Board of the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for regulation and development of the financial market dated 28.10.2022 No. 84 (shall be enforced upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).
