Article 2 Legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan on the restoration of debtors' solvency and bankruptcy of citizens of the Republic of Kazakhstan

1. Legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan on the recovery of debtors' solvency and bankruptcy of citizens of the Republic of Kazakhstan shall be based on the Constitution of the Republic of Kazakhstan and shall consist of the Civil Code of the Republic of Kazakhstan, this Law and other normative legal acts.

2. Should an international treaty ratified by the Republic of Kazakhstan establish rules other than those contained herein, the rules of the international treaty shall apply.

Article 3: Scope of this Law

1. This Law shall apply to relations resulting from the insolvency of a citizen of the Republic of Kazakhstan who is not registered as an individual entrepreneur.

2. Relations involving individual entrepreneurs in connection with their inability to satisfy creditors' claims in full shall be governed by the recovery and bankruptcy legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

3. The court shall examine applications for recovery of insolvency and bankruptcy proceedings, as well as the conclusion of an amicable settlement under the general rules of civil proceedings, with the particulars laid down herein.

Article 4: Principles for the enforcement of solvency recovery proceedings, out-of-court and in-court bankruptcy proceedings against individuals

The enforcement of solvency recovery proceedings, as well as out-of-court and in-court bankruptcy proceedings against individuals shall be based on the principles of:

- 1) legitimacy;
- 2) fairness;
- 3) publicity and transparency;
- 4) state regulation;
- 5) good faith of citizens;
- 6) ensuing of consequences.

Article 5: Grounds for applying for an out-of-court bankruptcy proceeding

1. The grounds for filing an application for an out-of-court bankruptcy proceeding with the competent authority shall be the existence of obligations not exceeding 1,600 times the monthly calculation index established by the law on the republican budget in force on the date of the application, and compliance in the aggregate with the following conditions:

- 1) absence of ownership of property, including property held in common ownership;
- 2) there has been no repayment of the liabilities to the creditors named in the application for twelve consecutive months as of the date of the application.

A payment in an amount exceeding a single monthly calculation indicator established by the law on the republican budget and effective on the date of payment is considered a repayment.

The period of non-repayment is calculated from the date of the last payment under each bank loan agreement and (or) microcredit agreement.

Under a bank loan agreement and (or) microcredit agreement assigned to a collection agency under an assignment agreement of rights (claims), the period of non-repayment is calculated from the date of the last payment until the assignment of the rights (claims) to the collection agency, unless the collection agency confirms a different period of non-payment;

- 3) the creditor and the debtor have carried out procedures to settle and (or) collect unfulfilled obligations under the bank loan agreement and (or) microcredit agreement in accordance with the laws of the Republic of Kazakhstan "On banks and banking activities in the Republic of Kazakhstan" and "On microfinance activities".

The measures to settle and (or) collect the debt specified in this subparagraph must be carried out within a period not exceeding twelve months from the date of occurrence of the overdue debt.

The requirements of this subparagraph do not apply to the obligations provided for in part two of subparagraph 11) of Article 1 of this Law;

4) failure to initiate an out-of-court or court bankruptcy proceedings within seven years as of the date of application.

2. Regardless of the provision of sub-paragraph 2) of paragraph 1 of this Article, the debtor shall be entitled to apply if he/she has been a recipient of state targeted social assistance for six months preceding the date of application.

3. Regardless of the provisions of paragraph 1 of this Article, the debtor may file an application if the period of default is in excess of five years as of the date of the application.

Footnote. Article 5 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (comes into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 6. Grounds for filing an application to apply a procedure of restoration of solvency or judicial bankruptcy

1. The grounds for filing an application to the court to apply the procedure of restoration of solvency are the fact that the value of the property belonging to the debtor exceeds the amount of all of his obligations (including the deadline for fulfillment of which has not yet come) and (or) the presence of a stable income.

2. The grounds for filing an application to the court to apply the procedure of judicial bankruptcy are:

1) the presence of obligations exceeding 1600 times the amount of the monthly calculation indicator established by the law on the republican budget and in effect on the date of filing the application for obligations to creditors specified in subparagraph 11) of Article 1 of this Law.

The provision of this subparagraph in terms of the amount of obligations shall not apply if the debtor does not meet the condition specified in subparagraph 1) of paragraph 1 of Article 5 of this Law;

2) the presence of obligations to other creditors;

3) the absence of repayment of obligations to creditors for twelve consecutive months on the date of filing such an application.

Repayment is considered to be a payment in an amount exceeding a single amount of the monthly calculation indicator established by the law on the republican budget and effective on the date of payment;

4) the absence of the fact of application of the extrajudicial or judicial bankruptcy procedure within seven years on the date of filing the application;

5) carrying out in relation to the debtor the procedure for settlement and (or) collection of unfulfilled obligations under the bank loan agreement and (or) the agreement on the provision of a microcredit in accordance with the laws of the Republic of Kazakhstan "On banks and banking activities in the Republic of Kazakhstan" and "On microfinance activities".

The measures to carry out the settlement and (or) collection of the debt specified in this subparagraph must be carried out within a period not exceeding twelve months from the date of occurrence of the overdue debt.

The requirements of this subparagraph do not apply to the obligations provided for in part two of subparagraph 11) of Article 1 of this Law.

Footnote. Article 6 - as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (comes into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 7: Powers of the debtor in solvency recovery, out-of-court or court bankruptcy proceedings

Should the second-tier bank, branch of non-resident bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan, organisation engaged in certain types of banking operations and (or) organisation engaged in microfinance activity fail to provide response to the application of the debtor, the document confirming proceeding stipulated by this subparagraph shall be a copy of application of the debtor or confirmation of sending the application in electronic format.

In case of exceeding twelve months from the date of occurrence of overdue debt, submission of the document provided for in this subparagraph is not required.

4. A debtor's application for restoration of solvency or a court bankruptcy proceeding that fails to comply with the requirements stipulated in this Article shall be returned by the court without consideration.

Footnote. Article 20 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (enters into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 21. Initiation of recovery of solvency or bankruptcy proceedings

1. No later than ten business days from the receipt of the application, the court shall decide on the initiation of solvency restoration or court bankruptcy proceedings, if the application meets the conditions set out in Article 20 hereof.

2. The ruling on the initiation of solvency recovery proceedings or court bankruptcy proceedings shall specify the obligation of the competent authority to appoint a financial manager within two business days from the date of such ruling, as well as the obligations of the debtor, public authorities and other bodies, as well as the Government for Citizens State Corporation which registers property rights, to enforce the consequences provided by Article 22, paragraph 1 hereof.

The ruling on the initiation of bankruptcy proceedings shall also specify the debtor's obligation to provide access for the financial manager to take an inventory of the debtor's property.

3. The court shall send copies of the court ruling on the initiation of solvency recovery or bankruptcy proceedings to the debtor, the competent authority and the territorial justice body at the debtor's place of residence and the Government for Citizens State Corporation, responsible for the registration of property rights.

Article 22. Consequences of instituting restoration of solvency or court bankruptcy proceedings

1. From the date of the ruling on the initiation of solvency or court bankruptcy proceedings, the following shall occur:

1) the debtor's debt obligations specified in the application for enforcement of the solvency or court bankruptcy proceedings are deemed to have expired;

2) no creditors specified in the application initiating the solvency restoration or court bankruptcy proceedings may demand from the debtor the fulfilment of his/her obligations;

3) no penalties (fines, penalties) and remuneration for any type of debtor's debts to creditors listed in the application for restoration of solvency or court bankruptcy proceedings may be imposed;

4) the debtor is prohibited to undertake new monetary or property obligations (with the exception of receiving micro loans from pawnshops);

5) the debtor's consent to obtain information on his/her property from public authorities and other bodies and organisations is deemed to have been granted;

6) the debtor is prohibited to leave the Republic of Kazakhstan, except for the necessity to provide medical treatment, to accompany a close relative for treatment, to conduct burial of a close relative outside of the Republic of Kazakhstan;

7) no recovery of money from the debtor's bank accounts to satisfy the creditors' claims, as well as recovery of the debtor's property is allowed;

8) claims against the debtor may be brought only within the procedure of recovery of solvency or court bankruptcy, excluding the case referred to in paragraph 2 hereof;

9) the execution of writs of execution in relation to the debtor's property is suspended;

10) enforcement of decisions of public authorities, other bodies and organisations whereby the debtor is obliged to transfer the property, make payment or otherwise fulfil property obligations, is suspended;

11) the creditor is prohibited from applying settlement and (or) collection measures provided for by the laws of the Republic of Kazakhstan "On banks and banking activities in the Republic of Kazakhstan", "On microfinance activities" and "On collection activities".

The requirements of paragraphs 1), 2), 3), 7), 8) and 9) of this paragraph shall not apply to claims for alimony and for compensation for harm to life or health.

2. Should the debtor fail to fulfil his/her obligations secured by a guarantee, suretyship or pledge of third parties, the initiation of solvency recovery or bankruptcy proceedings shall not prevent the creditor from pursuing claims against guarantors, sureties and pledgers for the outstanding obligations of the debtor beyond the framework of the solvency or bankruptcy proceedings.

Footnote. Article 22 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (comes into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 23. Powers of the financial manager in solvency recovery or court bankruptcy proceedings

1. Within two business days from the date of the court ruling on the initiation of solvency recovery or court bankruptcy proceedings, the competent authority shall appoint a financial manager from among persons whose notifications of the commencement of activities as financial managers are included in the state electronic register of permits and notifications under the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan on permits and notifications.

2. The powers hereby conferred on the financial manager may not be delegated to other persons.

3. The remuneration of the financial manager in solvency or bankruptcy proceedings shall be paid from the debtor's funds, unless otherwise stated herein.

The financial manager's monthly remuneration shall amount to one minimum wage, as set out in the law on the national budget for the financial year concerned.

4. In order to credit the debtor's funds, pay off current expenses and satisfy the claims of creditors in the bankruptcy proceedings, the financial manager opens a current account in his name with a second-tier bank (an organization carrying out certain types of banking operations) in the manner determined by the National Bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan, with the submission to the bank, the organization carrying out certain types of banking operations, of consent for the transfer by the bank, the organization carrying out certain types of banking operations, of information based on a request from the state revenue authority on the movement of funds in this account.

Money held in the financial manager's current account for the debtor's money, current expenses and creditors' claims in court bankruptcy proceedings shall not be his/her property and/or income and shall not be included in his/her inheritance.

No seizure, foreclosure and suspension of debit transactions on the financial manager's current account to credit the debtor's money, pay current expenses and settle the creditors' claims in court bankruptcy proceedings against the financial manager's obligations shall be allowed.

Footnote. Article 23 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (comes into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 24. Opinion of the financial manager

1. Based on the results of the collection of information on the debtor's financial status, the financial manager shall prepare an opinion in a prescribed form with one of the following conclusions:

- 1) the debtor is insolvent and there are grounds to initiate solvency recovery proceeding;
- 2) the debtor is insolvent and there are grounds for a court bankruptcy proceeding;
- 3) the debtor is solvent and there are no grounds for a solvency recovery or a court bankruptcy proceeding.

The opinion shall be lodged with the court within twenty business days following the decision of the court to initiate solvency recovery or court bankruptcy proceedings.

2. An opinion containing conclusions that the debtor is solvent and there are no grounds for the implementation of the solvency restoration or court bankruptcy proceedings shall be prepared by the financial manager in the absence of one or more of the circumstances envisaged by Article 6 hereof.

Article 25: Inventory of the assets of the debtor

1. The financial manager shall inventory the debtor's property within ten business days from the date of the court ruling on the initiation of solvency recovery or court bankruptcy proceedings.

2. The property shall be inventoried in the presence of the debtor.

Close relatives or other persons authorised by the debtor may also be present at the inventory.

3. The inventory report of the debtor's property shall include:

- 1) the time and place of compiling the report;
- 2) the surname, name and patronymic (if it appears on the identity document) of the financial manager drawing up the report;
- 3) surname, name and patronymic (if stated in the identity document) of the debtor;

- 4) name of each item, its distinguishing features;
- 5) market value of each item separately and of the entire property.

Both financial manager and debtor (person authorised by the debtor) shall sign the inventory report.

4. Amendments and/or additions to the inventory report may be made if a court rules to discontinue the recovery of solvency proceedings as well as to apply a court-ordered bankruptcy proceeding.

Article 26. Appraisal of the property of the debtor

1. The financial manager shall be obliged to appraise the debtor's property by engaging an appraiser within the time period specified in paragraph 2 of this Article.

2. The financial manager shall independently determine the appraiser.

Payment for the services of an appraiser shall refer to current expenses.

The appraisal report shall be prepared within ten business days after the conclusion of the appraisal agreement.

Within three business days from the date the appraisal report is provided by the appraiser, the financial manager shall send the appraisal report to the debtor and the creditor.

3. A debtor or creditor who disagrees with the appraisal report may appeal against it in court within ten business days from the day of reading the appraisal report.

The fee for the repeated appraisal shall be borne by the person who filed the complaint.

Article 27. Formation of a register of claims of creditors

1. The financial manager shall send to the authorized body for posting on the Internet resource of the authorized body an announcement in Kazakh and Russian on the initiation of proceedings on the case on the application of the procedure for restoring solvency or judicial bankruptcy and the procedure for filing claims by creditors.

The announcement shall be sent within two business days of the appointment of the financial manager by the competent authority.

Within two business days of receiving the announcement, the competent authority shall publish it on its website.

2. Creditors' claims against the debtor shall be declared by them within twenty business days from the date of publication of the announcement on the initiation of the solvency recovery or court bankruptcy proceedings and the procedure for filing claims by creditors on the competent authority's website. The financial manager shall receive creditors' claims in the manner stated in the announcement, under Article 13 hereof.

Creditors' claims must contain details regarding the creditor's mobile phone number and e-mail address (if available); details of the amount of the claim (separately for the principal, interest, forfeit and other penalties, losses) accompanied by copies of documents confirming the grounds and amount of the claim (enforceable court decisions, copies of contracts, recognition of debt by the debtor and others), while presenting the original documents for verification. The amount of the claim shall be determined as at the date of making the said claim.

Should the amount of the claim for remuneration (interest), forfeit and other penalties, losses specified in part two of this paragraph be changed on the date of the court's decision to apply the solvency recovery or court bankruptcy proceedings, the creditor shall resubmit its claims with due account of the said change within five business days from the date of such decision of the court.

Creditors' claims denominated in foreign currency shall be recorded in tenge based on the official exchange rate set by the National Bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan as of the date of the court decision to apply the solvency recovery or court bankruptcy proceedings.

3. Within five business days of receipt of the creditor's claim, the financial manager shall decide whether to recognise the claim as justified (unjustified) and include the recognised claim in the register of creditors' claims.

4. The financial manager shall send to the authorized body a register of creditors' claims for posting on the Internet resource of the authorized body, formed in the form and according to the procedure established by the authorized body.

The competent authority shall post the register of creditors' claims on its website no later than two business days after receiving the register from the financial manager.

If there are grounds, the creditor and (or) debtor, within ten working days from the date of posting the register of creditors' claims on the Internet resource of the authorized body, have the right to appeal to the authorized body or the court the inclusion (non-inclusion) of claims in full or in part in the register of creditors' claims by the financial manager.

An appeal shall not constitute grounds for suspending a court bankruptcy proceeding.

5. A creditor's claim submitted beyond the deadline referred to in paragraph 2 of this Article shall be subject to satisfaction after the claims of creditors filed within the deadline have been satisfied in full, excluding those for compensation for injury to life and health and for alimony payments.

Creditors' claims for compensation for harm to life and health and for alimony payments filed beyond the deadline established hereby shall be included in the register of creditors' claims as claims subject to satisfaction in the first instance.

5-1. In the event of failure of the creditor (creditors) to file claims, the register of creditors' claims shall be formed from the data provided by the debtor, including taking into account the information reflected in the database of credit bureaus.

6. Changes and (or) additions to the generated register of creditors' claims may be made in the cases provided for in paragraphs 4 and 5 of this article.

Footnote. Article 27 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (enters into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 28. Decision to apply the solvency recovery proceedings

1. The decision on the application of the solvency recovery proceeding shall be taken by the court, subject to the opinion of the financial manager referred to in subparagraph 1) of paragraph 1 of Article 24 hereof.

2. The court's decision to apply solvency recovery proceedings must include instructions on:

1) the submission by the financial manager of a solvency recovery plan within two months from the date of enactment of the decision on the application of the solvency recovery proceedings;

2) preservation of the consequences envisaged by Paragraph 1 of Article 22 hereof.

Article 29. Solvency recovery plan

1. A solvency recovery plan shall include any financial, legal and other measures not contrary to the laws of the Republic of Kazakhstan aimed at recovering the debtor's solvency, with due regard to the income received and current expenses, as well as the schedule for satisfying creditors' claims and the money left at the debtor's disposal on a monthly basis.

The period of execution of the solvency recovery plan shall not exceed five years, unless specified in sub-paragraph 2) of paragraph 3 of Article 32 hereof.

A solvency recovery plan may be executed prematurely.

2. A solvency recovery plan shall envisage one or more of the following instruments:

1) change of the deadline for fulfilment of an obligation (deferment and (or) instalment payment of a debt);

2) forgiveness of debt or part thereof, including forfeit (fines, penalties);

3) reduction of interest rate for the use of loan;

4) reduction of the amount of regular current payments with simultaneous increase of the total term of loan agreement performance;

5) change in the manner of performance of the obligation;

6) satisfying the claims of the pledge lender by transferring the subject of the pledge to that lender on condition that the pledge lender forgives the obligations under the loan agreement;

7) other instruments not provided for in this paragraph.

3. A solvency recovery plan may include the following steps:

1) selling part of the property;

2) leasing (renting) of property;

3) collection of receivables;

4) exchange of housing (vehicles) for housing (vehicles) of lower value;

5) The selling of a dwelling (vehicle) followed by the purchase of a dwelling (vehicle) of lower value;

6) the debtor's employment;

7) other measures not inconsistent with the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

4. Within one month from the date of entry into legal force of the court decision on the application of the solvency recovery proceedings, the financial manager must develop, jointly with the debtor, a draft solvency recovery plan based on a model plan form.

A draft solvency recovery plan shall be forwarded for review to the creditors whose claims are included in the register of creditors' claims. Within ten business days from the date of receipt of the draft solvency recovery plan, creditors shall provide suggestions and comments.

Submission of proposals and/or comments after the specified deadline shall be equated with the lender's failure to make proposals and comments.

5. Within five business days of the expiry of the period referred to in the second part of paragraph 4 of this Article, the financial manager shall prepare a final solvency recovery plan and forward it to the court as well as to the creditors whose claims are included in the register of creditors' claims.

Creditors' proposals and/or comments to the draft solvency recovery plan shall be submitted to the court at the same time as the final solvency recovery plan.

Should the proposals and/or remarks of the creditor(s) not be partly or fully accounted for when preparing the final solvency recovery plan, the financial manager must attach to the solvency recovery plan calculations reflecting the estimated amount to meet the claims of all creditors upon termination of the solvency recovery proceedings.

Article 30. Results of the review by the court of the solvency recovery plan

1. Based on the results of the review of the solvency recovery plan filed by the financial manager, the court shall issue one of the following judgments:

- 1) a ruling on the approval of the solvency recovery plan;
- 2) the decision to terminate the solvency recovery proceedings and to apply for a court bankruptcy proceeding.

2. A ruling on the approval of the solvency recovery plan shall be issued by the court in the event of

- 1) absence of creditors' proposals and (or) comments to the draft solvency recovery plan;
- 2) all proposals and (or) creditors' remarks are considered when drafting the final solvency recovery plan;
- 3) if calculations attached by the financial manager to the final solvency recovery plan show that the execution of the solvency recovery plan will result in the satisfaction of all creditors' claims in an amount not less than in the case of termination of the solvency recovery proceedings.

3. The court ruling approving the solvency recovery plan shall instruct (on):

- 1) approval of the solvency recovery plan;
- 2) terms of execution of the solvency recovery plan, notification of creditors on the execution of such plan and application of the debtor to the court for completion of the solvency recovery proceedings;

3) termination of the consequences provided for in subparagraph 6) of part one of paragraph 1 of Article 22 of this Law.

4. The decision to discontinue the solvency recovery proceedings and apply bankruptcy proceedings shall be made by the court if the calculations attached by the financial manager to the final solvency recovery plan show that the execution of the solvency recovery plan will result in the satisfaction of all creditors' claims to a considerably lower extent than in the case of discontinuing the solvency recovery proceedings and applying bankruptcy proceedings at the creditors' request.

5. The court decision on the termination of the solvency recovery proceedings and the application of the court bankruptcy proceedings shall specify the termination of the solvency recovery proceedings and the application of the court bankruptcy proceedings, as well as the instructions stipulated in paragraph 2 of Article 36 hereof.

Footnote. Article 30 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (enters into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 31. Effect of the approval of a solvency recovery plan by the court

Once the court ruling approving the solvency recovery plan enters into legal force, the following effects shall follow:

1) the debtor's obligations are to be discharged in the manner and on the terms set out in the solvency recovery plan;

2) the debtor is prohibited to perform transactions on alienation of its property or assuming new obligations, not covered by the solvency recovery plan;

3) based on the debtor's application, a copy of the court ruling on the approval of the solvency recovery plan, restrictions on the debtor's property are lifted;

4) the accrual of interest on the received loans is terminated;

5) the debtor is prohibited to make transactions involving loans (other than obtaining micro-loans from pawnshops), guarantees and sureties;

6) the powers of the financial manager are terminated.

Footnote. Article 31 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (enters into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 32. Implementation of a solvency recovery plan

1. The debtor shall be responsible for implementing a solvency recovery plan on her/his own..

Creditors may monitor the implementation of the solvency recovery plan by imposing an obligation on the debtor to provide them with regular information on the progress of the solvency recovery plan or by entrusting one of the creditors with the monitoring functions.

Following the expiry of the time limit for the implementation of the solvency recovery plan, on the day following the expiry date, the debtor shall send creditors a notification on the implementation of the solvency recovery plan and apply to the court for the termination of the proceedings.

2. In ten business days after receipt of the debtor's petition, the court shall decide on the completion of the solvency recovery proceedings, indicating:

- 1) the completion of the solvency recovery proceedings;
- 2) restoration of the debtor's solvency;
- 3) the debtor's continuing obligation to fulfil the obligations laid down in paragraph 3 of this Article.

3. Once the recovery of solvency has been completed, the obligations of the debtor shall remain with regard to the fulfilment of:

- 1) obligations referred to in Article 46 hereof;
- 2) obligations, having a longer term than the term of execution of the solvency recovery plan, under the conditions stipulated by such plan.

Article 33. Consequences of failure to implement a solvency recovery plan

1. Should it become impossible to perform the measures specified in the solvency recovery plan, by no later than one month following the expiry of the planned measures, the debtor must apply to the court for the termination of the solvency recovery proceedings and the application of the court bankruptcy proceedings.

2. Should the debtor fail to comply with the measures stipulated in the solvency recovery plan for more than two months, the creditor may apply to the court for the termination of the solvency recovery proceedings and the application of bankruptcy proceedings.

3. The debtor's failure to perform the obligation prescribed in paragraph 1 of this Article shall constitute grounds for the court to refuse to terminate his obligations remaining unfulfilled at the date of completion of the judicial bankruptcy proceedings.

This paragraph shall not apply in the event that the execution of the measure under the solvency recovery plan has become impossible due to force majeure, i.e. extraordinary and unavoidable circumstances (natural disasters, warfare, state of emergency, etc.), or due to the fault of third parties.

Article 34. Examination of the debtor's or creditor's petition in court

1. The court shall schedule a court session no later than ten business days from the date of receipt of the debtor's or creditor's petition for termination of the solvency recovery proceedings and application of the court bankruptcy proceedings with notification of the debtor, creditors, the competent authority on the date, time and venue of the court session.

2. Following the hearing of the petition, the court shall decide whether to terminate the solvency restoration proceedings and apply the court bankruptcy proceedings or to reject the petition as per the general rules of civil proceedings.

3. The court decision on the termination of the solvency recovery proceedings and the application of the court bankruptcy proceedings shall include instructions on the termination of the solvency recovery proceedings and the application of the court bankruptcy proceedings, as well as the instructions specified in paragraph 2 of Article 36 hereof.

Article 35. Discontinuation of the solvency recovery or court bankruptcy proceedings

1. A creditor or a competent authority shall apply to the court for suspension of the restoration of solvency or court bankruptcy proceedings in the following cases

1) the death of the debtor, entry into legal force of a court decision declaring the debtor missing or declaring him/her dead;

2) the debtor's failure to fulfil the obligations under Article 7 hereof.

2. Based on the results of the application of the creditor or the competent authority, the court shall decide on the termination of the restoration of solvency or court bankruptcy proceedings.

3. Termination of the solvency restoration or court bankruptcy proceedings shall not result in the termination of the debtor's obligations to creditors.

Article 36. Decision to apply for a court bankruptcy proceeding

1. The court shall decide on the application of the court bankruptcy proceedings, subject to the opinion of the financial manager.

2. The court decision on the application of the court bankruptcy proceedings shall contain instructions on:

1) the filing by the financial manager of an announcement on application of the court bankruptcy proceedings to the competent authority for posting on the competent authority's website;

2) the sale of the debtor's property by the financial manager and his/her settlements with creditors;

3) the transfer of the right to manage the debtor's property to a financial manager;

4) the transfer by the debtor of the documents of title to the debtor's property to the financial manager within three business days from the effective date of the court decision;

5) the transfer of funds by the debtor from bank accounts to the current account of the financial manager for depositing money, repayment of current expenses and satisfaction of creditors' claims;

6) the removal of any restrictions and encumbrances on the debtor's property (collection orders issued on its accounts, arrests on the property, etc.) without taking relevant decisions of the authorities that imposed them, based on the application of the financial manager;

7) the prohibition for the debtor to assume new monetary or property obligations (excluding receipt of micro-loans from pawnshops);

8) the prohibition for a debtor to leave the Republic of Kazakhstan.

Article 37. Time limit for court bankruptcy proceedings

1. The time limit for the court bankruptcy proceedings shall not exceed six months from the date of entry into legal force of the court decision on the application of the court bankruptcy proceedings.

The time limit established by this paragraph may be extended by the court for a period not exceeding six months, if the grounds stipulated by paragraph 2 of this Article exist.

2. The grounds for extending the period of the court bankruptcy proceedings shall include:

1) the existence of a case pending before the court that affects the debtor's and his/her creditors' property interests;

2) availability of unrealised property;

3) application by the financial manager to the state revenue authorities for evidence of deliberate bankruptcy or misconduct in the restoration of solvency and bankruptcy of citizens of the Republic of Kazakhstan;

4) the necessity to rectify infringements of the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan specified in the court ruling on refusal to approve the final report of the financial manager;

5) the necessity to remove infringements of the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan, revealed by the competent authority.

Article 38: Assets of the debtor

1. The debtor's assets shall consist of all movable and immovable property in the Republic of Kazakhstan and beyond, including:

property where the right and (or) the transaction are subject to state or other registration with a competent authority, including in a foreign state in accordance with the laws of a foreign state;

money in bank accounts, including in foreign banks located outside the Republic of Kazakhstan;

share in a residential building under an agreement on shared participation in housing construction;

participation interest in the authorised capital of a legal entity, including a legal entity established outside the Republic of Kazakhstan; securities, derivative financial instruments (excluding derivative financial instruments executed through acquisition or sale of underlying asset);

investment gold;

items of intellectual property, copyrights;

debts of other persons to the debtor (accounts receivable) in the presence of an agreement or other document serving as the basis for the obligation or claim, notarised (certified);

animals in the presence of a veterinary passport or other document confirming the right of ownership; precious stones and precious metals, jewellery made from them, and other items containing precious stones and precious metals, as well as works of art and antiques, furs and other valuable clothing; digital assets.

2. The share of a debtor from jointly owned property shall be divided as stipulated by the civil legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

3. Property that cannot be foreclosed on under the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan on enforcement proceedings and the status of bailiffs, as well as the debtor's sole dwelling not constituting security for obligations, shall not be included in the asset portfolio.

4. Excluded by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (comes into force sixty calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

Footnote. Article 38 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (comes into force sixty calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

Article 39. Sale of the assets of the debtor

1. The debtor's property shall be sold by an electronic auction or by direct sale as per the plan of sale of the debtor's property.

The debtor's property constituting a security for performance of obligations and not taken by the mortgagee in kind pursuant to Article 41 hereof shall be sold subject to the provisions stipulated by the Civil Code of the Republic of Kazakhstan and other laws of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

The debtor's property secured by a third party shall be sold subject to the existing encumbrance.

2. Within five business days of the court's decision on the application of bankruptcy proceedings, the financial manager shall prepare a draft plan for the sale of the debtor's assets independently.

The selected manner of sale of the debtor's property must ensure the most profitable sale of the property for the purposes of satisfying creditors' claims.

The debtor's property shall be sold at a value not lower than seventy-five percent of the appraised value of such property as specified in the appraisal report, from the date of which not more than six months has passed.

3. The draft plan of sale of the debtor's property shall be submitted for review to the creditors whose claims are included in the register of creditors' claims. Within five business days from the date of receipt of the draft plan of sale of the property, creditors shall make proposals and (or) comments.

Submission of proposals and/or comments to the draft plan for the sale of the debtor's property later than the deadline specified in part one of this paragraph shall be equated with the creditor's failure to submit proposals and/or comments.

4. Within five business days from the expiry of the period mentioned in the first part of paragraph 3 of this Article, the financial manager shall compile a final plan for the sale of the debtor's property and shall submit it for information to the creditors whose claims are included in the register of creditors' claims.

In the period of five business days following the receipt of the plan of sale of the debtor's assets, creditors may appeal against the plan to a court.

A court decision that becomes enforceable shall be the ground for amending the plan of sale of the debtor's assets.

5. The competent authority shall determine the procedure and the organiser of the electronic auction for the sale of the debtor's assets.

Article 40. Priority of distribution of the assets of the debtor

1. The debtor's current expenses shall be paid out of turn from the debtor's assets.

2. Claims for the recovery of debts for damages to life or health, for maintenance payments shall be settled first and foremost.

3. Tax arrears, customs arrears, other compulsory payments to the budget as well as payments to the budget recovered by a court decision shall be paid in the second instance.

4. Settlements with other creditors under civil law and other obligations shall be made in the third instance, and the claims of creditors shall be satisfied as well:

in the case envisaged by paragraph 7 of Article 41 hereof; arising as a result of a court decision declaring a transaction null and void and returning the property to the debtor's assets.

5. Creditors' claims for damages and penalties (fines, penalties and interest) shall be satisfied in the fourth order of priority).

6. The claims of creditors who have not fulfilled the obligation prescribed in subparagraph 4) of paragraph 2 of Article 8 hereof, as well as those submitted beyond the term established by paragraph 1 of paragraph 2 of Article 27 hereof, shall be satisfied in the fifth order, excluding the claims for compensation for harm caused to life or health, for the recovery of alimony.

7. If the property is insufficient to pay the claims between creditors of the same rank, such property shall be distributed between them in proportion to the amount of their claims included in the register.

Article 41. Satisfaction of claims of pledge creditors by taking the pledged property in kind

1. If there is pledged property in the debtor's assets, the financial manager shall send to the pledgee a proposal for taking the pledged property in kind within three business days after drawing up an inventory report.

2. No later than five business days after receipt of the offer referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article, the pledgee shall agree in writing to take the pledged property in kind or to reject it.

3. In the event that the pledged property is accepted in kind, no later than one month from the date of written notification to the financial manager of the acceptance of the pledged property in kind, the pledgee shall pay the costs related to the appraisal and maintenance of the pledged property.

4. Within five business days of the payment of the costs referred to in paragraph 3 of this Article, the financial manager shall transfer the pledged property to the secured creditor in satisfaction of its claims.

5. Should the appraised value of the pledged property exceed the pledgee's claims, the difference shall be transferred to the debtor's assets by the pledgee within one month from the day of taking over the pledged property.

6. Should the appraised value of the pledged property be less than the claims of the pledgee, the claims of the pledgee shall be deemed extinguished.

7. Satisfaction of the claims of the pledged creditor shall be effected in the procedure stipulated by Paragraph 4 of Article 40 hereof, in cases of:

Footnote. Article 44 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (comes into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 45. Circumstances constituting grounds for refusal to terminate the obligations of a bankrupt

The obligations of the bankrupt shall not be ceased, if there is one or more of the following circumstances:

1) the debtor has provided false information and/or concealed information about his/her financial status, assets and liabilities, including when applying for solvency recovery and court;

2) in the course of solvency restoration and court bankruptcy proceedings, the debtor has concealed the property, its part and (or) information thereof or prevented the financial manager, court or the competent authority from obtaining information on its financial status, property and liabilities, and (or) failed to comply with the legal requirements of the financial manager and (or) otherwise prevented him/her from exercising his/her powers;

3) the debtor has increased the debt amount or otherwise worsened his/her financial situation, including through expropriation of property, new obligations, solvency recovery and court bankruptcy proceedings to the detriment of creditors;

4) the debtor has reduced assets to the detriment of creditors within three years prior to filing for bankruptcy;

5) the debtor has unjustified preference for one creditor over others or has performed other actions to the detriment of creditors during the solvency recovery and court bankruptcy proceedings, as well as for three years prior to the initiation of proceedings on the solvency recovery and court bankruptcy;

6) the debtor has been recognised as guilty of premeditated bankruptcy;

7) other circumstances at the court's discretion allowing to evaluate the debtor's actions (omissions) on initiation of solvency recovery and court bankruptcy procedures or in the course of them as a way to evade liability to creditors.

Article 46: Obligations of the bankrupt not subject to termination after the completion of the solvency recovery and court bankruptcy proceedings

Obligations of the bankrupt, not subject to termination after the completion of the recovery of solvency and court bankruptcy proceedings, shall consist of the following

1) payment of alimony to persons entitled to receive it under the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan;

2) compensation of harm, caused to life or health of a person;

3) claims resulting under the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan “On the National Bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan”;

4) compensation for damages for criminal offenses, as well as budget revenues collected by a court decision.

5) remuneration of the financial manager who carried out the procedure for restoring solvency and (or) judicial bankruptcy, in the event of its absence in full or in part.

Footnote. Article 46 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (comes into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Article 47: Publication on the website of the competent authority and the e-government web portal of the list of individuals for whom the solvency recovery, out-of-court and court bankruptcy proceedings have been applied, terminated and finalised

1. The competent authority shall post on its website and the e-government web portal

1) a list of individuals in respect of whom an out-of-court bankruptcy procedure has been applied, terminated and completed;

2) the list of individuals in respect of whom the relevant court rulings and decisions have entered into force.

An individual shall be removed from the list in cases where the court's decision to impose solvency recovery or court bankruptcy proceedings has been overturned.

2. The list of individuals referred to in this Article shall be updated monthly, no later than the 20th day of the month following the expired month.

Article 48. Monitoring of the financial status

1. Throughout the period of out-of-court and court bankruptcy proceedings, the competent authority shall monitor the financial status of the debtor under the procedure and within the time limits established by the competent authority.

As part of the monitoring of the financial status, actions taken by the debtor to evade obligations to creditors shall be inspected, whereby its findings may constitute grounds for terminating the proceedings or for refusing to terminate the obligations of the bankrupt.

2. A competent authority shall monitor the financial status of a bankrupt for three years after the debtor has been declared bankrupt.

Creditors may also monitor the bankrupt's financial state.

Should it be found that the bankrupt has acquired property subject to state registration, including common joint property, the competent authority shall forward to the creditors the findings of the monitoring of the bankrupt's financial condition.

Upon receipt of information from the competent authority, creditors may apply to the court to cancel the declaration of bankruptcy of the debtor and resume bankruptcy proceedings under the Civil Procedure Code of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

3. The monitoring of the financial status specified in this article shall not be carried out in relation to citizens of the Republic of Kazakhstan who have applied the extrajudicial bankruptcy procedure on the grounds provided for in paragraph 3 of Article 5 of this Law.

Footnote. Article 48 as amended by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 19.06.2024 № 97-VIII (enters into force sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Chapter 4. SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

Article 49. Conditions for entering into a settlement agreement

1. At any stage of the bankruptcy proceedings, the debtor and the creditors may enter into a settlement agreement.

2. Third parties may participate in the settlement agreement and assume the rights and obligations stipulated by the settlement agreement.

3. A settlement agreement shall be approved by the court.

Upon approval of a settlement agreement, the court shall issue a ruling on the approval of the settlement agreement, indicating that the court bankruptcy proceedings shall be terminated and the decision on the application of the court bankruptcy proceedings against the debtor shall not be enforced.

4. A settlement agreement shall become effective on the date of entry into force of the court ruling on its approval and shall be binding on the debtor, creditors and third parties involved in the settlement agreement.

5. A unilateral withdrawal from an enforceable settlement agreement shall be prohibited.

6. Should the court decide not to approve the settlement agreement, a settlement agreement shall be deemed uncompleted.

A court's refusal to approve a settlement agreement shall not preclude the conclusion of a new settlement agreement.

7. A settlement agreement may be terminated by court decision if the debtor and/or creditors and/or third parties fail to comply with the terms of the settlement agreement.

8. The court ruling on approval of a settlement agreement, as well as the court ruling on refusal to approve a settlement agreement, may be appealed against (protested) in the order established by the civil procedural legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

9. Cancellation of a court ruling on approval of a settlement agreement shall be a ground for resumption of court bankruptcy proceedings.

A court that has decided to revoke a court ruling approving a settlement agreement or dissolving a settlement agreement shall specify in the court act initiation (renewal) of the court bankruptcy proceedings.

10. Should the court's ruling approving a settlement agreement be cancelled or a settlement agreement be terminated and court bankruptcy proceedings commenced, the claims of the creditors in respect of whom the settlement agreement has been concluded shall be determined with due regard to the terms and conditions set out in a settlement agreement.

Article 50. Content of a settlement agreement

1. A settlement agreement may be concluded, inter alia, under the following terms and conditions:

- 1) deferment and (or) instalment of the debtor's obligations;
- 2) assignment of the debtor's claims;
- 3) performance of the debtor's obligations by the third parties;
- 4) transfer of debt;

5) satisfaction of creditors' claims by other means not contrary to the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

2. A settlement agreement must contain details on the amount, procedure and timing of the debtor's obligations and (or) the termination of the debtor's obligations.

3. A settlement agreement shall be signed by the debtor and the creditor(s).

Should a third party be involved in the settlement agreement, the settlement agreement shall also be signed by such persons or their authorised representatives.

4. A settlement agreement must stipulate the procedure and deadlines for fulfilment of the debtor's obligations towards all creditors.

Article 51. Consequences of approving a settlement agreement

1. Approval of a settlement agreement shall be a ground for termination of the court bankruptcy proceedings.

2. The powers of the financial manager shall be terminated from the date of entry into force of the court ruling on the approval of a settlement agreement.

3. From the date of entry into legal force of the court ruling on approval of a settlement agreement:

1) the debtor and (or) third parties shall proceed to repay the debt to the creditors under the terms and conditions of a settlement agreement;

2) the consequences applied to the debtor under Article 22 hereof shall be terminated.

Chapter 5. FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 52. Liability for breach of this Law

Breach of this Law shall entail liability as stipulated by the laws of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

Article 53. Procedure for the enactment of this Law

This Law shall be enacted sixty calendar days after the date of its first official publication excluding sub-paragraphs 7) and 8) of Article 9 and paragraphs 1, 2, 4 and 5 of Article 15, to be enacted on the date of its first official publication.
